

NORTH BREVARD HISTORICAL SOCIETY AND MUSEUM

Help the North Brevard Historical Society!

The North Brevard Historical Museum is in need of artifacts from early Mims and Scottsmoor!

The mission statement of the Historical Society specifies the area to be covered by the museum to range from the Volusia County line south to Port St. John and from the St. John's River east to the Atlantic Ocean. We are currently looking to increase our collection of artifacts from the north end of the county from the early pioneers and settlers up until recent times.

Artifacts can be almost anything used by the early families, specific to the area or specific to any industry of the area. We are also in need of photographs of the north area of our county as our collection currently has very little. We would love to have early photos of the families and or the early buildings and school or club photos.

We have capabilities to make high resolution scans and copies for those who wish not to give their original photographs.

Any donation will be considered from early furniture, clothes, and household items to photos.

The North Brevard Historical Society is a 501(c) 3 organization so all donations are tax deductible.

Items can be brought to the museum or arrangements can be made to have them picked up.

The North Brevard Historical Museum is always looking to expand its collection of artifacts and photos.

If you have items that are related to life in the North Brevard Area or depict daily life in an earlier time that you would be willing to donate, we would love to see them. This includes photos, antiques, clothing, books, space items or anything that might be relevant to our area.

The North Brevard Historical Society is made up of people who have a love of history and wish to preserve our local history for future generations. The most visible focus of that goal is the North Brevard Historical Museum. The museum is open daily Tuesday through Saturday from 10am to 3pm and admission is free. Group tours are available.
